Over several generations, our family has been fortunate to develop valued and longstanding relationships with people within, and related to, the wine industry. These individuals share our passion and our table, and it is these moments of coming together and sharing the joy of wine that led us to honour them by naming our core group of wines,

THE KITH RANGE.

PINOT GRIS 2022, ADELAIDE HILLS

TASTING NOTES

A fresh, vibrant wine to be shared with friends. Nashi pear, citrus zest, and orange blossom aromas are complimented by vibrant fresh peach and citrus bursting onto the palate, medium to soft acidity integrated well to generous fruit flavours and creamy texture, with a slight hint of cashew. Pair this with pan-fried salmon with nam phrik num dressing

STYLE

Fruit driven Pinot Gris with great balance of acid and length on the palate.

REGION

Sourced from long-term growers in the Adelaide Hills, including the Moskos and Porter families.

VINTAGE SUMMARY

2022 saw a cooler-than-average growing season that led to extended ripening conditions and retention of natural acidity. As a result, patience was required to wait for optimum harvest dates ensuring full flavour development and acid balance was reached. Patience was rewarded with outstanding flavours and varietal definition with exceptional quality across all white varietals.

MATURATION

Bottled early to retain the varietal freshness. A portion of this wine was stored in old French barriques for 8 weeks providing complexity and mouthfeel.

CELLARING

Drink now - 3 years.

WINEMAKER

Andrew Cockram
